Here is our prayer for the week. I invite you to contemplate it daily:

Peace and Oneness

I recognize the infinite as Energy in action. Thought in action. Spirit in action. I recognize this truth as experience flows from the unformed substance into being. In heart and mind am one in Unity with the Infinite. Ideas of separateness fall away into complete illumination.

I affirm Peace, Love, and Joy are expressed in this moment. My serene mind is a beacon unclouded by anger or fear. Kindness forms like a wellspring. All around me, I see the opening of hearts and the illumination of minds to the perfection of one another. The power of perfect peace is my birthright.

If I see less than perfect peace, I know healing is at hand. The sun rises fully in the truth of our oneness.

And as I offer this grateful choice into a magnificent destiny, I embrace the joy of being, and release into law for divine expression of these thoughts.

And so. It is.
