Rising Above the Challenges

The only one who can tell you that “you can’t win” is you and you don’t have to listen.

CAT: Conscious, Acceptance, and Trust

How do you use your conscious mind to evolve a sense of Love? Each time I step over my limitation I learn how to live?

The Reading

How can we deal with a world in the throes of whole-system transition in which everything that we have known is changing at so rapid a pace that we are caught between the dangers that threaten us and the opportunities that beckon us? Educated for the demands of a different time and culture, we are called to be reeducated to use much more of ourselves in meeting the many new challenges that confront us. We have no choice, then, but to democratize greatness and utilize the whole continuum of human and divine potential.

The Science of Mind says that this is not only possible, it is what is expected of us. Indeed, it is that for which we have been created. The Infinite, knowing that it cannot contract, has coded the Relative, meaning ourselves, for expansion into Itself. For the first time in human history we are required, as a species, to extend ourselves into radically new ways of being. SOM P23

Read this Affirmative Prayer aloud twice a day! I guarantee you'll feel more Peace.

The Divine forever lives in the details of everything in existence. All is God and All is Divine. I unify with this truth and dwell in the consciousness of Life. All is good and unfolding as it should. Today, I live in the perpetual goodness that life creates for me everyday. There is no power in dividing life into compartments. There is no power in separating one thought from another. The power is in creating the consciousness that unifies all of the parts and pieces I call my life. The challenge is to become the vision we see. Thank you, God, for my creative life and the blessings I receive every moment of every day. AND SO IT IS!

AFFIRMATIONS

Monday: Today I am the key that opens the door to infinity. I am the blessing in disguise.

Tuesday: I accept my education in all the goodness God manifests as my potential takes form.

Wednesday: I choose to democratize greatness and utilize the whole continuum of human potential for which I was created to manifest.

Thursday: I am committed to bringing the Divine into expression in harmony with my infinite nature.

Friday: Blessed and made manifest my life is an endless experience of Joy.

Saturday: The Infinite, knowing it cannot contract, created my life and all of humanity to bring meaning to existence.

Sunday: Today I recognize the Sacred and Spiritual nature of all of life. Today, I pledge my life and my treasure to that which nurtures my good.
